

MOSTLY MOTETS

PRESENTS

A Concert of Early Sacred Music

3:00 p.m. • Sunday • April 24, 2005

In the Chapel of the Ursuline Convent
400 Angela Drive
Santa Rosa, California

Off of Old Redwood Highway, next to Angela Center
and near Ursuline High School

Mostly Motets is a small ensemble of 7 singers that sings sacred music from the Renaissance and earlier. This will be the group's first concert performance. Both the music and the concert setting emphasize a sense of reverence and awe for that which is mysteriously central to human existence and yet transcends it.

More information about this concert and about upcoming auditions for those interested in singing with Mostly Motets is available at:

Featuring music by composers such as:

William Byrd
Guillaume Dufay
Walter Frye
Giovanni Pierluigi da Palestrina
Thomas Tallis
Tomas Luis de Victoria

The concert will be brief, lasting about an hour.

Admission is free.
Donations are welcome.
